

PLENTY OF WATER TO OPERATE CANAL

TEST PROVES THAT GATUN LAKE WILL HAVE AMPLE SUPPLY FOR ALL DEMANDS.

NOT AFFECTED BY DROUGHT

Driest Period in 22 Years Gives Sufficient Supply to Give Culebra Cut Ten Feet More Than Biggest Warships Need.

Washington.—Resources of Gatun Lake, the wonderful artificial reservoir which is the main dependence of the Panama canal for its water supply, have proven ample to meet all possible demand, after the most severe practical test. Although the amount of water which ran into the lake during the last dry season—January to April inclusive—was less than in any similar period for the last 22 years, being only 61 per cent of the normal collection, the lake was maintained at its proper elevation throughout that period.

The dry season afforded the first opportunity engineers had to determine the amount of evaporation from the surface of the lake at its full depth.

The figures showed that there was still sufficient water at the end of the dry season to have kept the lake level at 79 feet above the sea level, which would have given 39 feet of water in Culebra cut, or about ten feet more than the draft of the biggest battleship.

At the end of the present rainy season Gatun Lake will be 87 feet above sea level, and allowing for the known evaporation, leaking and seepage, this would be ample for 41 passages daily through the locks, using them at full length, or 58 lockages a day when partial length is used, as would generally be the case. This is a larger number of lockages than would be possible in a single day.

Canal Opens End of Month.
New York.—According to Fred Alcock, general manager of the Pacific Steamship Navigation Co., the Panama canal will be ready for commercial traffic on or before July 31.

Alcock, who has just returned from Colon, said Gov. Goethals would most likely inform Washington of this possibility within a few days.

"From what the governor told me," remarked Alcock, "I think he will soon inform the government that the big waterway will be ready for big ships before the end of this month."

AGREES TO PEACE PARLEY

CARRANZA WILL NEGOTIATE WITH CARBAJAL.

U. S. Will Recognize Only a Peacefully Formed Administration, Says President Wilson.

Monterey, Mexico.—Fighting by constitutionalists is over in Mexico if plans announced here by Venustiano Carranza go into effect.
Gen. Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the constitutionalists to enter the City of Mexico and establish their government without further bloodshed or damage to property.
Gen. Carranza was unable to say whether these negotiations would be conducted through the A. B. C. mediators or direct with the federals. Unconditional surrender, however, will be the only condition on which these negotiations will be successful.

Washington.—The United States instructed John R. Silliman, American consul at Saltillo, to inform Gen. Carranza that if he arrives at a peaceful agreement with the Carbajal government for the transfer of power at Mexico City recognition will be extended to the resultant administration.

Should Carranza refuse to complete the settlement of the internal conflict by diplomatic means and insist on a forcible entry into Mexico City, recognition will be deferred until there is a legal election. American forces, according to present plans, will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until a government is recognized.

LEY DE FUGA CHARGE FALSE

Vera Cruz Court Inquiry Says Reporter's Story Involving American Marines Is Baseless.

Washington, D. C.—Rear Admiral Badger reported that sensational news dispatches sent from Vera Cruz by Fred L. Boat, an American newspaper correspondent, charging that "the law of flight" had been applied to Mexican prisoners by an American naval officer, had been found without foundation by a court of inquiry. Secretary Daniels directed the investigation, while Secretary Garrison's order for the cancellation of Boat's correspondence credentials and his deportation was held in abeyance.

The findings exonerate Ensign William A. Richardson of the battleship Arkansas, who was named by Boat as authority for his stories.

CROP MOVE RECORD BROKEN

Wheat Belt Roads Handle Yield Better Than Ever—Roads Have No Congestion.

Abilene, Kan.—The railroads of the wheat belt are handling the immense crop far better than in any previous season. By placing on every available sidetrack all the empty cars possible they have the cars well distributed in the counties where there is the largest yield.

Thrashing has commenced and wheat is being sold directly from the machines, but rainy weather has made progress slow, so that while 1,000,000 bushels of wheat went into Kansas City one day this week, breaking all records, the roads have no congestion.

SLEUTHS TAKEN FOR MOB

DETECTIVES SHOOT EACH OTHER IN STREET BATTLE.

One Officer Killed and Three Wounded in Fight When They Meet
After a Levee Raid.

Chicago, Ill.—A gun fight between two parties of plain clothes police, said to be due to a misunderstanding, resulted in the death of Stanley Birns, a detective sergeant; the serious wounding of Detective Sergeant John Shoop, Joseph Morrell and Fred Mart, detectives, and James Carroll. The latter is not a policeman.

A squad of detectives under Maj. M. S. Funkhouser, known as the vice squad, had raided several resorts in the old levee district and were followed by a jeering mob who resented their intrusion in the district. Detective sergeants from police headquarters were walking west on Twenty-second street, when they encountered the mob. They did not recognize the Funkhouser detectives.

"Halt!" cried one of the Central men. The Funkhouser men continued to advance, and as the Central detectives drew their weapons, believing they were hemmed in by two mobs, the morals squad also drew their revolvers and began shooting.

More than 25 shots were fired. Four detectives from the Central office were lying on the sidewalk when the firing ceased, and Carroll was in the street shot through the body.

Ever since the enforcement of the law against immorality was taken from the regular police there has been ill feeling between them and the vice squad.

7 BURIED IN QUICKSAND

BODIES MAY NOT BE RECOVERED
FOR MONTHS.

Cave-In Fills Every Crevice in Mine
as Thirty Workers Rush to the Mouth of the Tunnel.

Iron River, Mich.—Seven miners were killed in the Balkan mine at the Alpha location near here when sliding sand caused a cave-in. Crews of miners are digging for the bodies.

The miners were drilling into a roof. The drill hit quicksand, and with a shout the men, about 30 in number, began a rush for the mouth of the tunnel.

Seven of the miners were overtaken and killed in the quicksand, which filled every crevice in the mine, and the seven cannot be taken out for weeks or even months.

The rest of the men ran for their lives, pursued by the sand. Two were caught while trying to reach a ladder. One of these was compelled to die his clothing.

He struggled naked from the mine. The other man lost his boots, which became entangled, and which he kicked off.

RECORD JULY CATTLE PRICES

Kansas City Packers Predicting 11-
Cent Beef—Last Summer's Drought Blamed.

Kansas City, Mo.—Thus far this year 150,000 fewer cattle have been marketed in Kansas City than in the same period in 1913, the receipts being the smallest of any similar period in 20 years. The decrease is attributed to the drought in the southwest last summer.

July cattle prices are the highest ever known for this month. The demand now, cattle men and meat packers say, must be supplied mostly from grass-fed cattle. Another crop of prime, corn-fed beefs cannot be made, they say, until the corn crop of 1914 is available, probably not sooner than the middle of November.

If August prices for corn-fed steers are as much higher than the July level as they were in 1912, next month will see prime beefs bringing $11 a hundred pounds in Kansas City.

CODE COMMISSION HAS VERY BIG JOB

SECRETARY ROACH SHOWS THAT
337,547 PAGES OF LAWS
NEED REVISION.

LIBRARY HAS 434 VOLUMES

Statutes and Rulings Increasing at Rate of 10,835 Pages Annually—
No End of Law Making in Sight.

Jefferson City.
Discussing the necessity for Missouri code revision, and the multiplicity of law books, Secretary of State
Roach gave some interesting statistics.

A lawyer starting in business must have 434 volumes in his library, to possess complete laws of Missouri and the many interpretations of their meaning. This includes 176 appellate court reports, 253 supreme court reports, the revised statutes and session acts issued since revision, numbering five more volumes. His library must contain 5,001 printed pages of revised statutes; 22,335 pages of session acts (which will include the complete series of session acts); 122,456 pages of appellate court reports; 187,755 pages of supreme court reports—a total of 337,547 printed pages.

Figured on a paper-measure, this means that Missouri has more than 350 reams, or more than 35 bales of law.

Up to 1900, the different sessions of the legislature had passed 18,822 pages of laws. Since 1900, 3,513 pages have been issued.

The appellate courts were established by the constitution of 1875, from which date, up to 1900, these courts have written 53,648 pages of decisions. Since 1900, these courts have issued 68,880 pages.

The supreme court, from 1820 up to 1900, issued 108,391 pages of decisions. Since 1900, this court has written 78,864 pages—not including those now in press.

These figures show that the higher courts, since 1900, are disposing of approximately four times as much work as formerly, measuring the results by printed pages.

Resources Set Forth in Book.
The state bureau of labor statistics, through Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick, is distributing its Missouri "booster" pamphlet, which exploits the resources, advantages and opportunities of the state, the object being to attract capitalists, manufacturers, farmers, horticulturists, miners and other desirable settlers.

There is a write-up for each county of the state, giving the amount of land still open for improvement and the worth per acre, what each is adapted for and produces; population facts, farm statistics and other information of value to settlers looking for a locality. Advantages and opportunities of each city and town of the state are graphically outlined, revealing for each what industries exist and what others are needed. A map gives the state cross roads, history of the good roads movement in Missouri and an outline of what is ahead in the future for Missouri's highways and laterals.

The publication, which was prepared by Supervisor of Statistics A. T. Edmondson, under authority given to Commissioner Fitzpatrick, contains over 600 pages of reading matter and fully 1,000 Missouri portraits. There are 120 county and city maps, in addition to 100 half-tone illustrations.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of New York City, president of the National League for Equal Suffrage, will be in Springfield in September to hold a "votes-for-women" rally in anticipation of the campaign which will be held before the election this fall, according to word received by the president of the Political Equality league.

In the campaign for equal suffrage Dr. Shaw will tour six states in which suffrage amendments are to be voted upon. The states are Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota and South Dakota. In each of these states the National League for Equal Suffrage will have prominent speakers who will make numerous addresses.

To Name Convention City.
D. C. McClung, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said he will call a meeting of the state committee, to be held in Jefferson City the latter part of July, to select a meeting place for the Democratic platform convention and the organization of the new state committee.

Products Day Planned.
Jewell Mayes, secretary of the state board of agriculture, is planning a Missouri "products day," on the day to be designated all Missourians will eat and use so far as is practicable only Missouri products. School children will be asked on that day to take in their dinner baskets only edibles that were grown or produced in the state. Merchants will be asked to make their sales on that day, in so far as they can, from articles manufactured in Missouri factories or produced on Missouri farms.

State Collects Interest.
State Treasurer Edwin P. Deal received and covered into the state treasury checks from the various state depositories for interest on the state's daily balances for the month of June.

The aggregate of these checks was $27,224.02. Of this total the interest on the current funds in the treasury was $14,926.59 and on the capital building funds the amount was $5,991.17.

Vandalia.—Lightning burned the $2,000 barn of A. O. Jackson during a storm here.

Picks Good Roads Day.

Gov. Major designated Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 18 and 19, as "good roads" days in Missouri, and this week will issue a proclamation calling upon every able-bodied citizen to contribute two days' labor on the public highways or the equivalent in cash.

Tuesday and Wednesday were selected so that people throughout the state might continue their road work if they so desire, and give the remainder of the week to the betterment of highways.

"This date was selected," Gov. Major explained, "because the time is between seasons for the farmers. They are through with their corn cultivation and harvesting and threshing and it is before the wheat seeding period, giving them an opportunity to do road work."

Missouri inaugurated the "good roads" days last year, when, on Aug. 20 and 21, it was estimated that about 250,000 men accomplished several million dollars' worth of road improvement.

Last year, when the quarter of a million citizens worked the roads on the days designated, there were few of the counties that had road-building machinery.

Today more than 60 per cent of the counties have in operation machinery of the most up-to-date type and the results in the way of grading and ditching road are little short of marvelous.

Many letters have come to Gov. Major in the last two months asking what date would be named this year, and every indication points to an increased number of road workers.

The program for the two days will be embodied in the proclamation the governor will issue this week.

Neither Side Satisfied.

At the session of the Missouri capital building commission several sub-contracts submitted by the contractor were taken up for consideration. None has been approved.

Samples of stone from Carthage, Phoenix, Cassville and Ste. Genevieve also were submitted by the contractor.

The most important of the sub-contracts under consideration is for cutting and dressing the stone which has been awarded by Gill & Co. to the Ingalls Stone company of Missouri.

A delegation of Carthage carrymen consisting of F. W. Steady, Curtis Wright, John O'Rourke, James Logan and Judge Howard Gray was before the commission. The delegation expressed dissatisfaction with the recent action of the commission in modifying the terms of the contract with the Gill company through which a compromise was brought about on the stone question.

The same view of the matter was voiced by Judge E. L. Scarri of Kansas City, chief owner of the Phoenix quarry in Greene county, who, with his manager, J. B. Simpson, appeared before the board.

Candidates Must Stick It Out.
Candidates for nomination before the coming state primary, who have any intention of withdrawing their names, would be wise to do so at once. It is useless to apply to Secretary of State Roach to obtain the omission of a name from the ballot, for the reason that he has certified the form of the ballot and the names of the candidates to the county clerks.

In a congressional district, for instance, in which there might be 10 or 12 counties, it would be necessary for a candidate for the congressional nomination, should he conclude he has had sufficient of the game and wants to quit, to communicate with the county clerk of each county in the district.

Teacher Loses Damage Suit.
Fritz Darrow, former professor of Greek at Drury college, Springfield, who sued that institution, its president, J. H. George, and Rev. C. H. Briggs, a Methodist minister, for $50,000 for alleged damage to reputation and standing, lost his suit in the supreme court. The lower court sustained a demurrer to his petition and this action was affirmed here in an opinion by Judge Farris.

Darrow was discharged from the faculty Sept. 1, 1910, because he was a professed believer in theosophy. The school is controlled by the Congregational church.

To Sell Ice Anyhow.
D. C. McClung, warden of the Missouri penitentiary, temporarily enjoined from selling ice made by convicts, announced that he has manned the prison ice plant with free labor and will sell ice to anybody in Jefferson City who will come to the penitentiary and get it.

Good Roads Sunday.
Frank W. Buffum, state highway commissioner, announced that he will try to have every preacher in Missouri deliver a sermon on good roads on Sunday, August 16, to boost Gov. Major's two good roads days on Aug. 18 and 19.

107 Doctors Licensed.
The state board of health concluded the examination of papers written by applicants in a recent examination, and announced the names of 107 persons who had made the requisite grade and are entitled to a license to practice medicine in this state.
